The Language of Meetings

Malcolm Goodale

English Language Teacher
at the United Nations in Geneva

With illustrations by Mike Gordon
CONTENTS

1. The Language of Meetings ................................................................. 9
   General Language Points

2. Presenting an Argument ................................................................. 19
   Beginning
   Ordering
   Introducing a New Point
   Adding
   Giving an Example
   Balancing
   Generalising
   Stating Preferences
   Concluding

3. Opinions ...................................................................................... 29
   Asking for an Opinion
   Asking for a Reaction
   Giving Strong Opinions
   Giving Neutral Opinions
   Giving Tentative Opinions
   Bringing in Another Speaker to Answer a Question
   Bringing in Another Speaker to Present a Point
   Summarizing

4. Agreeing and Disagreeing ............................................................ 39
   Strong Agreement
   Neutral Agreement
   Partial Agreement
   Softening Strong Disagreement
   Strong Disagreement
   Softening Neutral Disagreement
   Neutral Disagreement
   Tactful Disagreement

5. Interrupting ................................................................................. 49
   Interrupting
   Taking the Floor
   Commenting
   Coming Back to a Point
   Preventing an Interruption
   Pre-empting an Interruption

6. Clarifying ..................................................................................... 59
   Asking for Confirmation
   Asking for a Repetition
   Correcting Misunderstandings
   Rephrasing
7. Questioning
   Asking General Questions
   Asking for Further Information
   Playing for Time
   Saying Nothing
   Questioning

8. Proposals
   Proposals, Recommendations and Suggestions — Strong
   Proposals, Recommendations and Suggestions — Neutral
   Proposals, Recommendations and Suggestions — Tentative
   Expressing Total Support
   Expressing Support
   Expressing Partial Support
   Expressing Total Opposition
   Expressing Opposition
   Expressing Tentative Opposition

9. Persuading
   Asking Questions
   Adding Information
   Challenging
   Expressing Reservation
   Reassuring

10. Degrees of Importance and Certainty
    Emphatic Views
    Neutral Views
    Tentative Views
    Playing Down a Point
    Certain
    Probable
    Possible
    Unlikely
    Uncertain

11. Compromising
    Offering a Compromise
    Asking if it's Acceptable
    Adding a Condition Positively
    Adding a Condition Negatively
    Accepting a Compromise
    Rejecting a Compromise

12. Procedure for a Formal Meeting

Revision Game — Getting it all together

Answers